

Michael Hoffman

Michael Hoffman is Vice President, Pfizer Worldwide Procurement, with global responsibility for procurement to support Pfizer's Global Manufacturing division. He has more than twenty years of experience in procurement at the world's largest biopharmaceutical company. Prior to this assignment, Michael was the Senior Director of Pfizer Worldwide Procurement responsible for driving performance through optimizing the organizational structure, professional development and global communications. During his tenure at Pfizer Mike has held procurement positions in both global strategic sourcing roles as well as manufacturing site procurement operations in all categories of spend. He is based in Pfizer's Peapack, New Jersey offices. In 1988, Mike earned a B.S. degree in Procurement and Materials Management from Bowling Green State University in Bowling Green, Ohio.