

Cathy Rodgers

Cathy is IBM Vice President Global Opportunities and Strategic Relations. She has over 20 years in Procurement and Supply Chain experience. Cathy has received several IBM Outstanding Achievement Awards for her leadership and contributions to Supply Chain transformation, has been featured in the New York Times for her contributions to Supplier Diversity and was recognized twice as Woman of the Year in Business in Santa Clara County. Cathy has received a personal commendation for service from California's Governor and currently serves as the Chairperson for the ISM (Institute of Supply Management) committee on Sustainability and Social responsibility. Cathy is currently lecturing on various aspects of Sustainability and Social Responsibility, a topic she is passionate about.